12 March 2020 Press release Career

Christophe Braouet to leave Helaba

Christophe Braouet (62), Head of Client Relationship Management for Institutional Clients, has decided to enter early retirement on 31 March 2020 after many years of service for Helaba. Mr. Braouet began his career in 1982 as a regional manager at Banque Francaise du Commerce Exterieur (BFCE) in Paris. In 1987 he joined Union Européenne de CiC, where he headed the Americas (North and South) and North Mediterranean department. In the summer of 1994, he was appointed as the head of Helaba's Paris representative office. Having assumed responsibility for the bank's international offices and public finance business at its Frankfurt headquarters in 1997, Mr. Braouet became head of the global banking department in 1999. Since 2003 he has been head of the division CRM Institutional Clients. In future, his responsibilities will be transferred to Thomas Leicher in the Capital Markets division.

»Thanks to his outstanding knowledge of the institutional client segment and its regulatory environment, Mr. Braouet has established and maintained excellent customer contacts for Helaba, not only in Germany but also internationally.«

Hans-Dieter Kemler

Member of Helaba's Board of Managing Directors

"Mr. Braouet has made a tremendously successful contribution to ensuring that Helaba is a reliable partner for our institutional clients and that it enjoys a high level of recognition and trust," explains Hans-Dieter Kemler, a member of Helaba's Board of Managing Directors. "Thanks to his outstanding knowledge of the institutional client segment and its regulatory environment, Mr. Braouet has established and maintained excellent customer contacts for Helaba, not only in Germany but also internationally. We would like to extend our sincere gratitude to Mr. Braouet for his successful services to Helaba in the course of the many years he has worked for the bank in a spirit of mutual trust. We wish him all the best for his future".

Contact

Ursula-Brita Krück

Deputy Press Officer

+49 69 / 91 32 - 21 92

LinkedIn

Send a message